Substance Misuse Trends in Higher Education with Cindy Clouner, MPH, LSW, OCPS, Managing Director of the Higher Education Center for Alcohol and Drug Misuse Prevention and Recovery and Ahmed Hosni, MSW, Assistant Director within the Student Life Student Wellness Center at The Ohio State University

This session will explore the current trends in substance misuse among college students and discuss how campuses can better meet the needs of their students across the continuum of care. Join us to learn more about how alcohol, cannabis, and fentanyl is impacting students, the expansion of recovery supports on campuses, and national, state, and local resources that can support efforts to fill gaps within the continuum of care on your campus.

Webinar Objectives

- Participants will be able to describe current trends related to collegiate substance misuse, specifically related to alcohol, cannabis, prescription drugs, and fentanyl.
- Participants will be able to define the continuum of care, from prevention through recovery, and identify strategies they can employ to fill existing gaps in service.
- Participants will be able to list existing national, state, and local resources available that can support the implementation of strategies addressing the continuum of care.
